Board of supervisors give ideas on new food program

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Frank Turner, Susie Schmidt and Bonnell Roberts addressed the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Friday morning stating that they have an opportunity to bring some food to the county and give it away and asked for assistance in setting up guidelines for such a project.

The food will come from the warehouses of large grocery store chains located in Harahan, La.

"The stores, which can claim these donations as tax writeoffs, are donating food that is good but has been slightly damaged such as bent cans or discolored packages," Roberts said.

"Basically it's food that the stores can't put on their shelves but, is still usable," said Schmidt.

Roberts emphasized, "The food has not been sitting on a shelf for a long time and is not bad in anyway, it is just not presentable enough to sell."

Schmidt and Roberts have volunteered their services because they feel this project will help people in Hancock County.

Schmidt said, "My husband is a shrimp and there just aren't any shrimp right now. We know what it's like to struggle trying to feed the children."

"We would like this food for people who are working but don't make enough money to get along," said Turner.

"We want the food to go to people other than welfare and food stamp recipients."

The food is for families who have working members but are struggling just to barely make a living."

"The food is for the person whose pension has been cut in half because of Reaganomics, or for the older person who is just barely living on social security," said Schmidt.

"However, we need a place to put the food, trucks to haul it and guidelines to follow in distributing it," said Roberts.

Walter Gex, board attorney, asked if they would consider putting the program under welfare.

Schmidt answered, "That's what we don't want because then the right people won't benefit. The policemen, the firemen or working people won't qualify if it goes under welfare."

Gex said, "The county doesn't have the authority to get involved if it's not in their statutes."

Gex added, "You understand when you start selecting people to get the food, and the county has anything to do with it, the telephone lines will be burning up if somebody doesn't get it."

Schmidt said, "I would like to see everybody get it."

Mike Necaise, chancery clerk, said, "All the supervisors can do is to set up some guidelines for the program."

Gex suggested to the representatives of the free food program that they contact the fairgrounds association and see if they could rent a building out there for maybe $1 a year. "I think that's the best way to go," said Gex adding, "the county has no authority in this type of project."

Gex also stated that he would be happy to write the Attorney General's office to see what qualifications are needed to start this kind of a program.

Gex also added, "John Smith from the Extension Services may be able to offer advice." He suggested that the food project representatives contact him.

Schmidt noted, "The program will be constant and anybody is welcome to come and donate their time."

Bert Courge, board member, said, "Hattiesburg has a similar food distributing program." He stated that

Waveland mayor considers city secretary AWOL

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Waveland Mayor John Longo said Friday that Barbara Rappold is "absent without leave" and terminated from the full-time position of city secretary.

"I feel she (Rappold) is absent without leave and I consider her terminated, but I will accept her resignation," the mayor stated.

When initially asked if Rappold was recently fired as city secretary, Longo replied, "I think so. I really don't want to make a comment until I talk to her."

Rappold was unavailable for comment Friday.

When The Sea Coast Echo telephoned Rappold Friday afternoon, Laurie Lachin, who identified herself as a niece, said her aunt was in Florida, could not be reached for comment and would not return to Waveland until "late Sunday."

The mayor said Rappold is "technically on vacation," but he did not know when she would return.

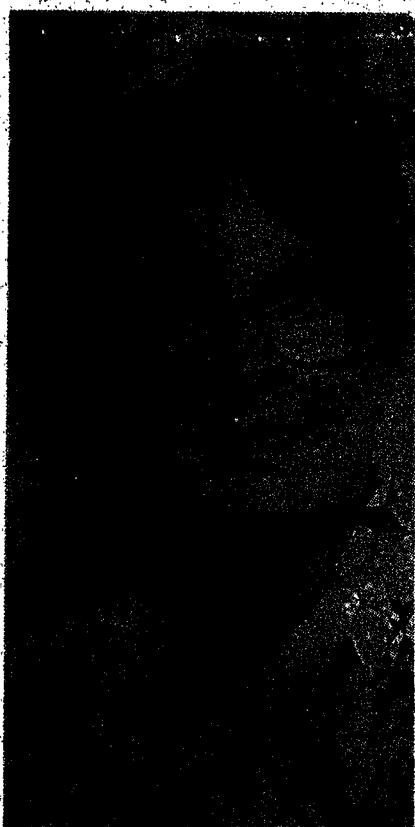

Regarding Rappold's actions, the mayor reported, "I had some work I requested she finish before the weekend and I haven't received it."

"The word I received was she is on vacation and I don't know how long," he stated.

Longo said he did not know what prompted her action and stated, "I've had no response from her."

Rappold is also an elected Ward One alderman and serves as zoning official for the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland American Legion Posts plan Memorial Day services, all local law enforcement agencies are increasing patrols this weekend, and several Monday closings are scheduled.

The annual holiday honors Americans killed while defending the United States.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Bontemps was a respected Bay St. Louis native killed in World War I, Prevou explained.

The memorial program will include a speech by Joseph Benvenuti, post chaplain, regarding patriotism and the Ladies' Auxiliary will place a wreath on the Bontemps grave, Prevou said.

Don Decker, co-chairman of the Memorial Day Committee of American Legion Post No. 77 in Waveland also reported Thursday that the organization's Memorial Day events will include the city's 'Avenue of Flags' in which 50 American flags will be placed along Coleman Avenue on Monday.

A service is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. in front of the post home located just east of Coleman which will include a speech by Lt. Col. Joseph Ramsey Jr. who is commander of the 3380th

FARMERS MARKET

Official opening of the Hancock County farmers Market at the Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road is slated for 7 a.m. Saturday. The market remains open until sellers exhaust their supplies. The market will operate on Saturdays and Wednesdays from 7 a.m. through the summer growing season, according to Ethel Favre of the Hancock County Extension Service, coordinators of the Farmers Market.

Technical Training Group at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Decker said.

WEEKEND PATROLS

Chiefs Douglas Williams of the Bay St. Louis Police Department, Ed Alley of the Pass Christian Police Department and Donald Dorn of the Waveland Police Department, and Sheriff Ronald Peterson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department all reported Friday that patrolmen will be on the lookout for drunk or reckless drivers.

They also said the expected good weather conditions will probably draw a large number of tourists into the area for the first major 1983 summer holiday weekend.

Williams urged drivers to observe speed limits particularly near baseball fields in use and beach areas.

He also noted no glass containers are allowed on city beaches and litterers will be arrested.

"We appeal to the public to observe all laws and traffic controls so that everyone will have a happy and safe Memorial Day weekend," the chief stated.

Alley reported all patrolmen in addition to auxiliary officers will be working during the weekend.

"Don't drive while drinking because you will be picked up," Alley warned.

Dorn urged all vehicle operators to drive with caution because city police will be out in force during the three-day weekend.

Television cameraman seeks lost equipment

WLOX-TV cameraman John Pates is seeking return of equipment he lost on an assignment at the Hancock County Youth Court Building Wednesday.

Pates said he reported to the Hancock County sheriff's department the loss or theft of an Army-green tote bag containing a Color Tran blue tv camera light with folding stand; microphone stand; camera tri-pod, and orange electrical extension cord.

The equipment was inadvertently left outside the front of the building, Pates said.

Anxious for the return of the equipment, Pates said no questions will be asked.

Information on the missing equipment should be referred to the sheriff's department.

Investigation remains open in HGH deaths

ELLIS CUEVAS

An investigation by the Hancock County sheriff's office and the Mississippi Highway Patrol's criminal investigators continues into the death of one patient and injury to another at Hancock General Hospital who later died, according to Ronald Peterson, Hancock County sheriff.

On Saturday Peterson said, "We had anticipated finishing the investigation by the end of this week, but we still have more persons with access to the operating room at HGH to question."

"Margaret Amann, 32, died at Memorial Hospital on Wednesday after she was injured during surgery at HGH on Friday, May 20. Elizabeth Henderson Lator, 74, died at HGH on the same day during surgery," Peterson stated.

The investigation at HGH was requested by the hospital administration and members of the medical staff.

Phil Langston, HGH administrator, after the incident in a press release said, "The exact cause of death and injury are under investigation but appear possibly to be related to anesthesia equipment."

Peterson indicated his understanding that an autopsy had been performed on Mrs. Amann at the request of her family.

When asked if the HGH incident was similar to a happening in an operating room at Fort McClellan, Ala. this week when two persons were reported killed and another injured in operating room incidents, he said he did not think so.

"The information I read about the Alabama Military Base deaths talked about the use of a gas used in welding, instead of oxygen. Our investigation at HGH does not reveal the same thing," Peterson said.

He continued, "AT HGH, the hoses which go to the machine (anesthesia) were apparently the problem, as the machine functions properly when tested."

The Alabama incident reported by the Associated Press on Friday stated: "...Army pathologists performed autopsies Thursday to learn if a gas used in welding instead of oxygen, may have been given to a soldier and a premature baby who died Wednesday at the Noble Army Hospital."

A third patient given oxygen was rushed to Anniston Regional Medical Center, where she was listed as stable but in critical condition.

The central oxygen system at the 100-bed hospital at Fort McClellan was shut down Wednesday and the Army's Health Services Command was called in to investigate the incident. The Ar-

ART UNDER THE TREES—The paintings shown at the Hancock County Art Association's show looked professional but, most of the artists have only been painting for a year or two and before that had never picked up a brush. Carl Baldenhofer, coordinator of the show and art instructor, said, "Most of the paintings were done by senior citizens who take classes with me. Over 250 paintings are being shown," Baldenhofer said. The art was displayed on the grounds of the Hancock County Library on Saturday. "This showing was the third that the association has had and it's the biggest one so far," said Jennie Ortis, president of the association. The majority of the paintings were also for sale. Although most of the paintings were done by senior citizens there were two entrants done by children, Chris Panton, 9, and Anthony Thaxton, 11. Baldenhofer said he thought the children had great potential. Lena McKnight, a member of the association and the senior citizens club is a student of Baldenhofer's. McKnight is working on an oil painting of flowers in the midst of the show. The setting seems to be perfect. (Staff photo by June Heydt)

New home care service offered by private firm

The executive director of Quality Home Health Care, Inc. which recently opened an office in Bay St. Louis, said his firm is a private, non-profit corporation and not affiliated in any way with the State Department of Health.

Frederic D. Rogers of Biloxi noted, however, the program is licensed by the Certification and Licensure Division of the Mississippi Health Care Commission.

Ms. Judy Yarborough of the Hancock County Health Department, a branch of the State Health Department, said the county department operates a home health care service which is under the direct supervision of the state department.

A recent report on a Waveland Board of Aldermen meeting erroneously stated Rogers' firm was under the direction of the State Department of Health.

Rogers said his firm operates under the same private, non-profit type of license as the Salvation Army, United Way and most churches in the state.

Quality does not bill its clients except in rare cases in which medical calls for co-payment, usually an amount not exceeding $6 to $10, Rogers explained.

"We are strictly a medicare-medicaid provider and have been issued a medicare number," he explained.

"Our customers do not pay for our services," Rogers added.

"We do not practice medicine, our clients are referred to us in almost all cases by their private physicians," Rogers elaborated.

If a customer is recommended to the firm by family or friend, a physician is called in to develop a treatment plan, the director said.

Services offered by Quality include skilled nursing, physical therapy administered by four therapists, speech therapy, medical-social services, and home health aid.

The company's medical-social workers are called into the patient's home if situations of neglect or abuse are found, Rogers said.

"Through our health aid service we provide a sterile sick room atmosphere, personal care such as tub baths and grooming, and sometimes we fix a 'light meal,'" he continued.

"We are not a housekeeping service, even though I do think medicare should provide for such services in the many instances where they are vitally needed," Rogers feels.

New weather network soon to be operating in Bay

This week Senator John C. Stennis announced that the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Data Buoy Center in Bay St. Louis will assist in the development and implementation of a new automated weather observing network designed to help NOAA meteorologists devote more time to preparing weather forecasts and warnings.

A prototype of the Automated Surface Observing System will be installed next year at the NOAA Center for initial testing. Subsequent ASOS units will be tested and demonstrated at six Kansas airports, and in the varied climates of Florida, Alaska, Virginia, and California.

"This is an important early step toward automating the collection of surface observations used in preparing daily weather forecast and severe weather warnings," said Dr. Doug Sargeant, director of the Office of Systems Development for NOAA's National Weather Service.

The National Weather Service plans to eventually install ASOS equipment in over 200 U.S. commercial airports, several of which will be in Mississippi.

As a component of the National Weather Service, NOAA will contribute over a dozen years of engineering experience with automated observing systems to the ASOS program. The center is responsible for the development, deployment, and maintenance of unmanned sea buoys that collect and transmit weather and marine data.

These automated buoys are moored in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, Gulf of Mexico, Great Lakes, and along the nation's coastline.

"The NOAA Data Buoy Center will oversee and manage a good deal of the initial ASOS program," said Dr. Jerry McCall, director of the NOAA Data Buoy Center. "This includes the acquisition of 13 demonstration systems."

ASOS will automatically record measurements of temperature, precipitation, wind speed and direction, cloud cover, and other data. Such measurements will be available 24 hours a day, regardless of weather conditions.

Weather observations from these unmanned units will free NWS meteorologists from the time-consuming task of data collection. Typically, the manual recording and processing of surface observations takes about 25 percent of the NWS observer's time. Severe or changing weather often can double that time, just when warnings must be issued and other critical services performed.

"Automated observations will allow NWS meteorologists to make more efficient use of their time which could lead to improved forecasts," added Sargeant.

Stennis said, "We are very pleased that NOAA has assigned this additional National responsibility to the NOAA Data Buoy Center in our State. It is an expansion of the technological capability here upon which other advances can be based."

Johnson announces Governor candidacy

State representative, Lonnie Johnson of Pearl has announced his Democratic candidacy for Governor of Mississippi.

Johnson, 35, who has a real estate and financial consulting business in Rankin County said he is advocating an across-the-board cut in state agency budgets "because we've got to pay our bills."

"The major issues, I think, are probably jobs and taxation," he said. "As the next governor we're going to keep the airplanes hot looking for industry."

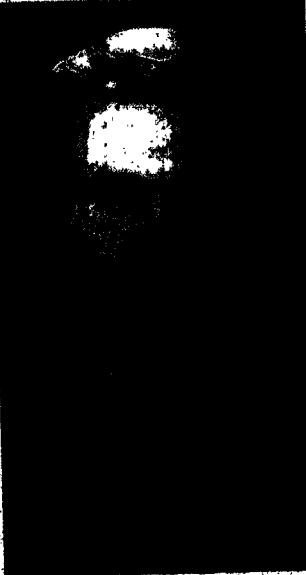

"There's not an agency in state government that can't cut back," he said.

"We're simply going to cut back on some things money is being extended for. They'll just have to wait a while to buy," he said.

Johnson, a second term legislator said he opposed Gov. William Winter's education package in December because it included sales and income tax increases, a provision for studying school consolidation and an authorization for public kindergartens in 1986.

"I'm not willing at this time to burden people with a tremendous kindergarten program that has only been partially funded," he said predicting that local districts would be forced to sell bonds to finance construction of classrooms for the early childhood education program.

"Mississippi has a lot to offer and our people deserve more and better paying jobs and as your next Governor, I promise to actively recruit businesses that will complement Mississippi's main industry agriculture. Mississippi has some of the best farmers in the Nation and they deserve to make a profit. If action is not taken to help open up new markets for our farmers products, the farmers are going to go broke. We need to actively recruit industries that will process our beef, soybean, cotton, catfish, and timber products," Johnson said.

"As State Representative, I introduced the bill to help get the drunk drivers off our highways. This bill is now in conference and I feel certain that we will enact the tough drunk driving law that this State so badly needs. It is a shame that one person is killed everyday in Mississippi because of a drunk driver."

"My wife, Lydia, and my three children Russ, Amanda, and Brian will try to see as many of the voters of Mississippi as is physically possible within the next four months. We ask for your prayers and support," added Johnson.

Gandy seeks the Governor's seat

Evelyn Gandy announced her candidacy for Governor of Mississippi.

Asserting that the next Governor must have the proven leadership and working relationship with the legislature to get things done, Gandy said she is well prepared to be Governor.

"As a legislator, assistant attorney general, state treasurer, commissioner of public welfare, commission of insurance and Lieutenant Governor, I have made it my business to establish programs and push for legislation to help solve our people's problems," Gandy said.

Evelyn Gandy

Gandy said, My first priority will be to designate an existing staff position as Deputy Assistant for Job Development. That person, under my direct, personal supervision, will work full-time to bring together resources from business, labor, government and our universities to provide jobs for Mississippians."

She also said that as Governor she will work for full implementation and funding of the Education Reform Act of 1982. In addition, she will press for expanded adult education and vocational technical training programs to prepare people for new jobs.

"I have utmost confidence and faith in the fairness and judgment of the people of Mississippi in electing the best qualified candidate to serve as Governor," she said, and concluded by saying, "I believe that when you judge my qualifications, my record of

VA Questions and answers

Q.—How does one define a "service-connected disability?"

A.—A "service-connected disability" is any physical or mental disease or injury incurred or aggravated during active service in line of duty, providing the veteran was discharged or separated under other than dishonorable conditions.

Q.—If I do not agree with a decision the VA makes on an application for benefits, what can I do?

A.—You may file an appeal regarding any benefit decision with which you disagree. All that is necessary to start the appeal procedure is for you to write the VA stating why you disagree with the decision and include information you believe should be considered by the VA.

Q.—I have been receiving education benefits for the past three years claiming my wife and two children. Now the VA is suddenly asking for a marriage certificate and birth certificates for my children. Why are they asking now when they have already been paying me for them?

A.—VA regulations now require the submission of verification for veterans' dependents. This is to insure that veterans are receiving the appropriate amount of monthly benefits for the proper number of dependents. Failure to furnish the requested documents could result in reduction of monthly benefits.

Quotables by Cuevas

Everyone seemed to really enjoy themselves on Friday at the 10th Anniversary celebration of the Hancock County Retired Senior Volunteer Program, (RSVP).

The lively group enjoyed an old fashioned type picnic which included music, hot dogs, fried chicken and soft drinks.

There were many individuals and businesses who made donations of items for the picnic and we want to express our appreciation to all of them.

It was good to see so many of our friends, some we have known a short time and others many years.

Preparations are underway for Memorial Day Services in both Bay St. Louis and Waveland on Monday.

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 will have a celebration at the site of Clement R. Bontemps grave in St. Mary's Cemetery on Necaise Avenue at 10 a.m.

Joseph Benvenuti, post chaplain will deliver the message on patriotism.

At 11 a.m. in Waveland, the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77 will have an open house and Memorial Service. Lt. Col. Joseph Ramsey Jr. of Keesler Air Force Base as guest speaker.

Veterans, as well as the general public are invited to attend the services.

Patriotism needs improving today in our nation, so we hope there will be a large turnout for the special services honoring those who gave their lives for their country.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this coming week, the State's Lions Club will be conducting eye examinations at the Choctaw Plaza in Waveland.

The Lions Club of Hancock County has been very busy, even though there are only a few active members in providing many services to it's residents.

This is another public service, in making arrangements for the Lions Clubs Mobile unit's visit.

Hearing tests will also be offered, and we are hoping parents will take advantage of the free basic tests.

The testing is for all ages, pre-schoolers to senior citizens according to Wallace Bradley, local Lions Club spokesman.

The deadline is fast approaching for persons who are planning to run in either the Democratic or Republican Primary election on August 2.

The deadline for qualifying is June 3, which is only a few days away.

We know the number of candidates on the local scene is down from previous elections in Hancock County.

A possible big factor is the redistricting which has not been given approval by the Justice Department.

This is also a good time to remind citizens they must be registered in order to be able to vote in the county and state elections.

We know the majority of persons qualified are qualified electors, but, there may be a few who have just reached the age of 18 or really never took the time to register.

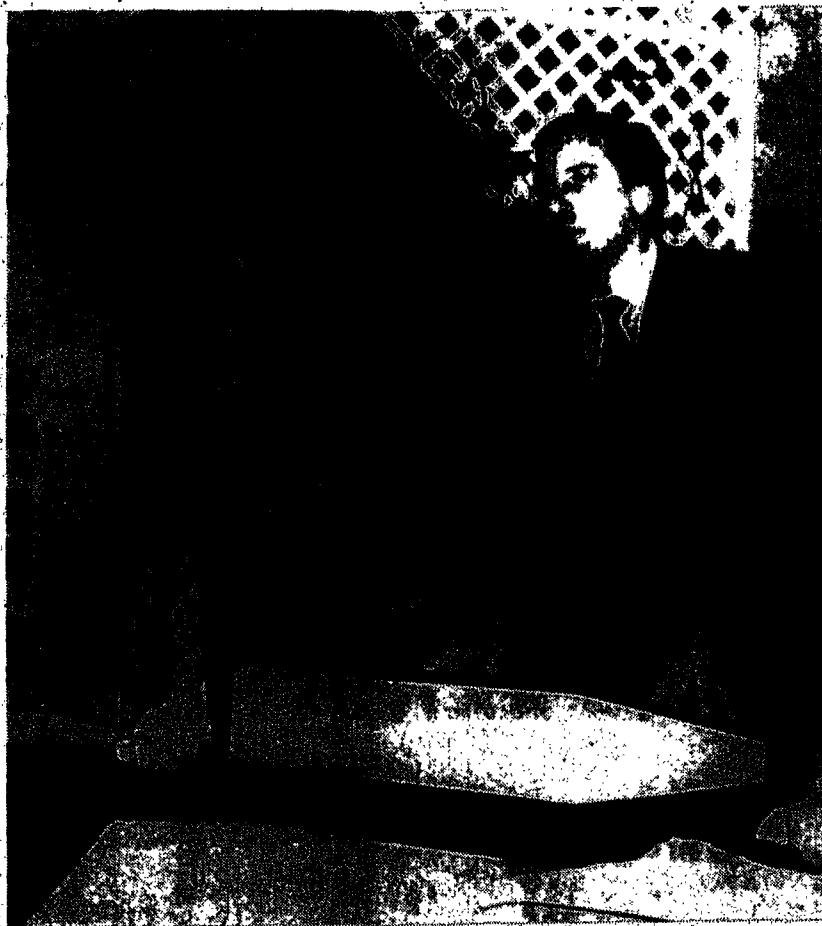

We have seen many elections decided by one or two votes in our area. It is important for as many people as possible to be qualified electors and vote during elections.

People tend to litter where litter has already accumulated. Throwing trash from an automobile — be it a glass bottle, a metal container, or paper products — is like saying to someone else: throw yours, it's alright.

MORNING EDITION—Circuit Court Judge James Thomas addresses Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Morning Edition early risers Thursday at the Peppermill. David Riemann of Riemann Funeral Homes, who was this month's sponsor for the morning edition is also at the head table. Judge Thomas spoke on the many factors which have to be considered before sentencing is imposed on a person who is found or pleads guilty of crimes. Thomas said, "One of the reasons so many people are in trouble is because there is too much disrespect for the law, other persons, the property of others, and law enforcement officers." He indicated the majority of persons in trouble with the law are the 18-26 age group, and it is hard to send a person to prison because he knows, "There is a 50-50 chance for both male or females, that they will be raped within 90 days, and also 70 percent of the inmates will work whether they want to or not." Judge Thomas is the newest circuit court judge in the district which includes Hancock, Harrison and Stone Counties. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

News from the Governor

More than 9,000 economically disadvantaged and underachieving youth are expected to participate in two Governor's Office of Job Development and Training (GOJDT) summer programs, the Summer Youth Employment Program and the Title II-B Employment and Training Programs for Youth.

"Having young people exposed to real life work situation will help them to be prepared for their entry into the full-time work force," said Steve Halliburton, GOJDT program operations division director. "The programs also will give them a 'taste' of a career they may want to pursue.

Approximately 8,000 will be served in 77 counties by the Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) which is designed to expose young people to the "working world" with actual on-the-job experience. This eight-week program, open to 14 to 21-year-old youth, will provide participants with 32-hour per week jobs at minimum wage in libraries, county offices and other public and private non-profit enterprises.

SYEP funding is $2,147,418. Approximately 1,800 young people in 50 counties are expected to be served by the Title II-B Employment and Training Program for Youth which is designed to give them a sampling of various career fields.

It will include assessment, testing and counseling and occupational career and vocational exploration in fields such as auto mechanics, garment construction, food services, elementary typing, filing, mechanical drawing, welding, barbering, electronics, marketing, banking, hotel-motel, restaurant management and retail clerking.

Open to 16 to 21-year-old youth, the program, in most cases, will cover six weeks. The youth will be given an allowance of $2 per hour.

Typically, a week will be spent in each course selected by participants. Funding for the Title II-B program is $1.4 million.

"We realize that deciding upon a career can be a tough decision," Halliburton said. "Many young people make this decision without much understanding of the career they've selected. Frequently, they're not aware of the options."

"Beyond helping the young people, the summer programs can help all of Mississippi by giving our state individuals who are ready to accept their roles in the work force with a genuine work ethic," Halliburton said.

"We believe the programs can do much to help break the cycle of unemployment caused by unqualified or unwilling workers. They could help to make the difference between tax-paying workers and welfare recipients."

Further information on the programs may be obtained from local Employment Service offices, school counselors or from Halliburton by dialing 354-7706.

SENIOR CITIZENS SUPPORTED

America's record of supporting its elderly citizens may not always have been what it should, but now, we are writing a story that the world envies.

This significant turn for the better started in 1969, when a variety of federally-assisted programs were established to promote the economic well-being and independence of our elderly people.

And, contrary to the opinions fostered by well-paid lobbyists in Washington, federal programs for elderly Americans have continued to grow. To me, this means the government is paying more attention to senior citizens now than at any time in our history.

Interest in the condition of senior citizens can be found in every branch of government. Congress has committees and subcommittees which spotlight the subject, the executive branch administers such programs as social security and the judicial branch has made many decisions prohibiting discrimination on the basis of age.

Any discussion of programs for the elderly must include four huge programs administered by three Cabinet departments and the Social Security Administration. Outlays for services funded through these agencies are projected to increase significantly.

Since 1970, social security beneficiaries have seen their benefits raised more than 42 percent, while the average wage of working Americans went up only 34 percent in the same period. Beneficiaries got cost of living adjustments of 9.9 percent in 1979, 14.3 percent in 1980, 11.2 percent in 1981 and 7.4 percent in 1982.

Now, of course, actions have been taken to ensure the solvency of the social security program to protect senior citizens.

Many successful efforts to help the elderly are in the record, like the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) and the Meals-on-Wheels program. Social security benefits are continuing as is the Medicare program, which will finance health services for 27 million elderly citizens next year at an estimated cost of $80 billion.

In addition, there are special rates for senior citizens on many transportation systems, hotels and motels, national parks and restaurants.

Prayer for Peace, Memorial Day, 1983

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Each year, for more than 100 years, we have gathered on Memorial Day to pay tribute to those men and women who have fallen in battle, sacrificing their lives to preserve our freedom and world peace. In doing this, we are reminded that neither peace nor liberty is guaranteed, and that our national ideals remain threatened by global conflict, economic crises, violence, and aggression.

Throughout our history, America has been a symbol of hope for all people. We must always accept the many responsibilities that this requires. Thus, we are prepared to assist other nations in their struggle for economic progress; to help those in other lands who suffer from political repression and injustice; to deter aggression by strengthening democracy around the globe; and to work tirelessly toward a world without war.

Those who have sacrificed their lives for our country serve as a reminder that our work is unfinished. With vision and purpose and a prayer in our hearts, let us dedicate ourselves to their memory.

In recognition of those Americans to whom we pay tribute today, the Congress, by joint resolution of May 11, 1950 (64 Stat. 158), has requested the President to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to observe each Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace and designating a period on that day when the people of the United States might unite in prayer.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Memorial Day, Monday, May 30, 1983, as a day of prayer for permanent peace, and I designate the hour beginning in each locality at 11 o'clock in the morning of that day as a time to unite in prayer. I urge the press, radio, television, and all other information media to cooperate in this observance.

I also request the Governors of the United States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the appropriate officials of all local units of government to direct that the flag be flown at half-staff during this Memorial Day on all buildings, grounds, and naval vessels throughout the United States and in all areas under its jurisdiction and control, and I request the people of the United States to display the flag at half-staff from their homes for the customary forenoon period.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 4th day of April, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and seventh.

he thought the city was running it rather than the county.

Gex said, "Until we can get a handle on it you'll have to operate out of a truck."

Schmidt replied, "We'll keep operating out of our house. There're people out there living on just grits."

Gex asked Courregue to check into the Hattiesburg program and to see how it is being run.

Redistricting

In other business, Gex said he had been in contact with the attorney general's office concerning the redistricting. He said that unless the county gets the redistricting approval from the justice department that the elections will have to be held under the old lines.

The state attorney general's office instructed Jerry Heitzmann, circuit clerk, to have the candidates who would be affected to double qualify. The board will have to make a determination as to where a candidate is to run.

Gex said, "The last word I had was that all candidates have been notified and all have come in and double qualified except one."

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission director, James C.

DeBlanc presented a resolution accepting a bid from Environmental Construction Corp. for furnishing and installing the water tower automatic controls at Port Bienville for $2,500. EEC was the sole bidder. The board passed a motion to accept the bid.

The board accepted a resolution authorizing the proper officers to execute First Addendum to Lease Contract of Gulf Fishermen, Inc. The new lease will be for one year and be under the same agreement as last year's.

The courthouse will be closed on Monday, June 6 to celebrate Jefferson Davis's birthday.

Services.....

ment will be utilized all weekend by patrolmen citywide.

"We expect a lot of tourists this weekend, weather permitting," Dorn stated.

Peterson reported, "We usually have more traffic accidents during holiday weekends. So we'll be looking for drunk and hazardous drivers."

"We urge everyone not to attempt driving after drinking alcoholic beverages," he added.

Anderson finds Spences innocent

Lawrence Spence of Fenton and his son David Allen Spence were found innocent of grand larceny charges by Justice Court Judge Meridith L. Anderson.

The Spences had been charged with stealing parts from a truck which had been donated to the White Cypress Fire and Rescue Service, Inc. by the Leetown Volunteer Fire Department.

The charges were brought in an affidavit signed by Horace Strong, chief of the White Cypress group.

In court Thursday, Strong said that the truck was taken to the Spences' home for repairs. Lawrence Spence was the department's appointed mechanic at that time, Strong said.

"The truck was to be repaired for service in the community if at all possible," he said.

Spence argued that the Leetown department donated the truck to his son, who planned to use the parts for his own truck.

Allen Spence's privately-owned fire truck was to be used to assist the White Cypress department, he said.

James Rester, who was president of the Leetown Fire Department at that time, corroborated Spence's testimony and produced a tape recording of the board meeting in which Allen Spence requested the donation.

Played at Anderson's request, the recording revealed that the Leetown trustees voted unanimously to donate the truck to "them," but did not specify a person or organization.

However, after the vote, a voice which Rester identified as Herbert Ray Knight, who presided at the meeting, said to the younger Spence, "Buddy, you got you a truck."

Rester said that the truck was actually donated to Spence with the understanding that the truck be repaired for use with the White Cypress department.

After the recording was played, Strong said, "I was not aware of this transaction...Bill (Crow) said that it was donated to White Cypress to do with as we pleased."

Crow was the fire chief for Leetown at that time, Strong said.

Strong declined to comment after the hearing.

When the Spences were booked, Lawrence Spence claimed that Strong pressed charges in retaliation for his attempt to block the department's recognition by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Earlier this month, the supervisors postponed that recognition after Spence presented a 48-signature petition objecting to "these people representing the area."

Recognition of the group would allow them to receive state insurance rebates and a share in a one-half mill county tax to support volunteer fire departments.

Strong signed the affidavit against the Spences several days later.

The following week, on May 17, the Kiln Fire Department repossessed White Cypress' only operating fire truck for non-payment of the balance due on the purchase. This action lost the department its membership in the Hancock County Fire Association, the first step in the process leading to recognition by the county.

my's Criminal Investigation Division was also called in, but officials said they do not suspect criminal activity.

"A pathologist investigation will begin today, and preliminary tests take some time to get back from Lab," Army spokesman Lt. Col. Doug Verdier said Thursday. "Some of those results may become part of the investigation and won't be released."

The victims were identified as Master Sgt. James C. Brownell, 45, and the premature infant daughter of Command Sgt. Major and Mrs. Patrick J. Maxwell.

Charlotte Huddleston, 27, the wife of Sgt. Kenneth R. Huddleston, who is on assignment in Furt, West Germany, was rushed to the Anniston Hospital after the incident for treatment of cardiopulmonary arrest and possible brain damage.

Officials said her prognosis was poor.

There are reports that a gas used for arc welding, may have been substituted for oxygen in the hospital's central supply system. Army officials declined to discuss the possible mixup.

"There's a lot of speculation as to what happened," Verdier said. "Right now we don't know exactly..."

In connection with HGH incident, Peterson said the investigation being conducted by himself, Alvin Ladner, Hancock County investigator, and Joe Price and David Brooks of the Mississippi Highway Patrol criminal investigation department centers around 'the hoses and the machine (anesthesia)' in the operating room.

Fugitive apprehended in Calif.

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A fugitive wanted in connection with the May 1982 burglary of an occupied dwelling was returned to Hancock County from Orange County, Calif. on Tuesday according to Delbert Seay, Hancock County investigator.

Seay said, "Edward L. Deabate, 24, 227 North Lakewood Drive, Panama City, Fla., who was indicted by a July Grand Jury on a burglary charge was returned to Hancock County after being apprehended in Orange County, Calif. and waving extradition."

"Deabate is alleged to have tried to burglarize a mobile home owned by E.J. Marengo when he and his wife were away. Mrs. Marengo's mother was baby sitting with the couple's children. She awakened and screamed when she saw the subject, who fled," Seay added.

When Deabate was indicted, he had fled the area and his name was entered in the National Crime Information Center which caused his being held by the Orange County authorities, Seay said.

He is now lodged in the Hancock County jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond according to Seay who is in charge of the investigation.

In other police activity, two Gulfport residents were charged Wednesday night with receiving stolen property from two new houses in Diamondhead earlier in the day.

Police apprehended Rodney C. Martin, 34, and Terry Lee Walker, 38, both of 3001 Audubon St., Gulfport, while they were loading more than $2,000 of appliances and plumbing fixtures into their truck along I-10 on the eastern Diamondhead property line, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

The items were reportedly stolen earlier from two homes being watched after receiving a tip that the property would be stolen according to Earl (Buck) Ladner, director of security at Diamondhead.

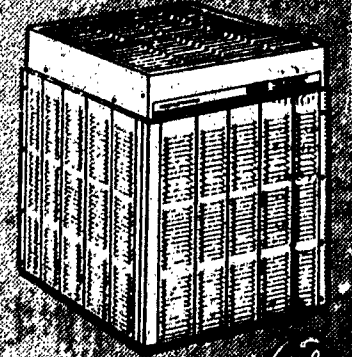

Peterson reported both men were carrying 22-caliber pistols and were additionally charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Smith, Rayborn wed at First Baptist

Sandra Kay Rayborn of Waveland and Samuel Brooks Smith of Pascagoula were united in marriage Saturday, May 14, at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis with Dr. Nathan L. Barber officiating at the evening ceremony.

Gothic style candelabra centered the altar area flanked by spiral candelabra trimmed with greenery and white satin bows. Areca palm greenery completed the setting. Aisle, candelabra and candles in each window were decorated with leatherleaf, plumosa, and springer ferns and white satin bows.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Beth Watkins, organist; Peggy Tedford, soloist, sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "O Lord Most Holy" by Franc. Wedding service programs were handed out by Brooks Smith, niece of the groom, of Pascagoula.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Rayborn of Waveland. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Pascagoula and the late Mr. Wesley Smith.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of brocade satin with silhouette-dropped waist, high illusion off-the-shoulder bodice enhanced with venise lace, heavily seed-pearled and sprinkled with iridescents, and full gigot sleeves. The softly gathered skirt was bordered with embroidered lace and had a chapel sweep. She wore a headpiece of pearl-venise lace, and her chapel-length veil of illusion was sprinkled with iridescents. The bride carried a silk cascade of cream white roses, lily-of-the-valley, baby's breath, and mini-ivy interspersed with satin pirot ribbon.

Gail Carr of Bay St. Louis attended her sister as matron of honor. Her floor length gown of matte royal blue taffeta featured ruffled portrait collar, puffed sleeves and cumberbund waistline. She wore white crocheted gloves and carried a cascade bouquet of carnations in progressive shades of blue, cream white roses, and baby's breath interspersed with taffeta ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Garbin of Ocean Springs; Mrs. Catherine Ginn of Waveland; Mrs. Julie Hale of Babson Park, Fla.; Mrs. Tamara McSparrin of Jackson; Miss Pamela Proctor of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Helen Pulliam of Columbia, Miss.; Miss Rebecca Tedford of Waveland; and Miss Lisa Thomas of Bay St. Louis. The attendants' dresses and bouquets were identical to that of the matron of honor.

Serving his brother as best man was Wesley Smith Jr. of Pascagoula.

Groomsmen were Bert Brennan and Dennis Dickinson of New Orleans; James Day of Mobile, Ala.; William Firth of Hattiesburg; Gregory Nowell of Philadelphia, Miss.; Richard Sutherland of Pascagoula; Darrell Taranto of Biloxi; and Harold Voelkel of Jackson.

Ushers were Travis Brooks, cousin of the groom; of Jackson; Robert Deen of Hattiesburg; Michael Miller of Jackson; Wayne Morris of Little Rock, Ark.; and Kenneth Rayborn, brother of the bride, of Waveland.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a formal gown of ice blue chiffon featuring tucked bodice, bateau neckline of lace and lace cuffed long sleeves and flared skirt.

The groom's mother wore a formal gown of rosette chiffon with schiffli embroidered bodice overlaid with chiffon jewel neckline and flared skirt. Cream white rose corsages completed their ensembles.

Mrs. Willie Templeton of Starkville, Miss.; grandmother of the bride, wore a floor length gown of pink tulle. Her corsage was of cream white roses and miniature carnations.

A reception followed at Virginia Hall of Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis. The bride's table was overlaid with a white cut-work cloth. Single white candles in tall silver candle sticks flanked the four-tiered bride's cake. The punch table, also overlaid with a cut-work cloth, held a silver punch bowl of pink punch. A five-light candelabra graced the punch table. The groom's table contained an octagon shaped red-velvet cake decorated with sugared grapes and leatherleaf and a silver coffee service.

The guest register table held a pink rosebud in a slender silver bowl containing pink satin roses filled with rice. On the piano were two white baskets of the satin roses that were given to the guests by Chris Carr, nephew of the bride, and Brooks Smith, niece of the groom. Music for the reception was provided by Beth Watkins.

On return from a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico the couple will reside in Mobile, Ala.

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

MONEY TALK

"Using my bank card at the automatic teller is the most convenient service offered by my bank," said one consumer.

What kind of card are you using? Do you refer to it as a credit card? Actually, it is a debit card.

Debit cards were developed to be a substitute for checks by automatically transferring payment from the debit card holder's bank account to the merchant. Such a system is called electronic fund transfer. This usage has not developed as rapidly as once thought.

Debit cards have primarily been used with automated teller machines. Debit cards allow a bank customer to insert the debit card and instantly receive cash from the machine. The amount is immediately deducted from the user's account.

The user of a debit card is issued a secret code number which must be punched into the machine to activate it. We recommend memorizing the secret number and/or recording it somewhere other than on the checkbook. The liability on a credit card cannot exceed $50 per card, but the liability on a debit card can be much more.

If your debit card is stolen and used by someone else and you notify the issuer within two days after you discover the loss, your liability is limited to $50. If you don't notify the financial institution within two business days after learning of a theft or loss, you could be liable for the amount taken from your account up to a maximum of $500.

What if an unauthorized transfer occurs and you don't discover it until it shows up on your monthly statement? You must notify the bank within 60 days after the statement was mailed.

The liability is then $50 or the amount of the transaction, whichever is less. If you don't notify the bank within 60 days after the statement was mailed, you may be liable for all losses due to unauthorized use of the card after the 60 day period. Of course, this means a crook could get all the money in your account.

Guard your debit cards and credit cards as you do your money. Notify the proper issuer immediately if lost!

Measured service option available to phone customers

South Central Bell reports a new service option will soon be available to Bay St. Louis telephone customers on individual lines.

"This service option offers significant savings to customers who make a limited number of local calls each month," said Don Roberts of Gulfport, district manager.

The first option, available to residential customers only, is low-usage measured service, a one-party service that costs less than flat-rate service.

It reduces the basic monthly residential rate to 55 percent of the current flat rate. Under this plan, customers receive an unlimited number of incoming calls.

An allowance of $3 worth of calling is included in the basic rate for this and is applied to outgoing calls only. This allowance is used depending on how many calls are made, the time of day calls are placed, the length of the call and the distance the call travels.

Under the plan customers will pay for each local call they make after their usage exceeds the $3 allowance.

"We're really excited about this particular offering," said Don Roberts, Bell's local district manager. "For those customers here in Bay St. Louis who select this option, the basic monthly rate could be reduced by as much as $7.29."

"Of course, customers who do choose this plan will be those who are willing to hold down their calling to a certain degree. But you can make quite a few calls with that $3 allowance."

The second option, available to residential and business customers, is standard measured service. Under this plan the customer also receives unlimited incoming calls. The monthly rate is 67 percent of flat rate, with an allowance of $6.50 worth of calling for residential customers and an allowance of $7.50 worth of calling for business customers.

"We designed the residential part of standard measured service for those customers who need a large monthly allowance for their local calls," Roberts said. "These customers talk a little more often than low-usage customer would, but still want to lower their bills as much as possible."

"Business in particular can realize substantial savings by adopting the new Standard measured service plan. Rates here in Bay St. Louis, for example, could be reduced as much as $12.97 for single-line business service."

Roberts also pointed out that discounts for evening, night and weekend calls are provided for in the new measured service plans and further noted that there is no installation or service charge for changing to measured service.

"I feel certain many of our customers will consider using one of the measured service options," Roberts concluded. "It's a good option to consider for customers who want to save on their telephone bill."

Harrison Humane celebrating national Adopt-A-Cat month

By EILEEN LOPER
Director, Harrison Humane Society

It is the event of the year on the cat calendar, a time when fortune shines on the feline, and cat lovers go all out for their furry, finicky friends.

It is Adopt-A-Cat-Month at animal shelters nationwide and The Harrison County Humane Society is taking part in the special annual effort to find good homes for kittens and cats.

Nationally, more than eight million kittens and cats are left homeless and taken in by Humane Societies every year, of which the Harrison County Humane Society sheltered over 3,800 in the past year.

While some people may not readily associate June with cats, there is a strong reason for focusing on felines now.

Spring is the peak breeding season for cats, bringing in large numbers of homeless kittens to shelters, adding to the many adult cats usually available for adoption.

Again, spaying or neutering your cat would help remedy some of the overpopulation of unwanted kittens.

Anytime is a good time to adopt a cat, but June is probably the best time because there are so many precious cats and kittens in need of homes.

Also, the fact that a cat was once a stray doesn't mean that he or she will not make a good house pet. Cats adjust very easily and prefer the comforts of home. After all, Morris, came from a Humane Society such as ours.

Inside Harrison County Humane Society are dozens of heartbreakers, adorable and adoptable kittens and cats waiting to be carried off in the arms of a new human parent.

Though some of the more independent and finicky of the breed, like Morris, might lead you to believe otherwise, cats do need human companionship.

Life for a stray on the streets is tough and the odds are against a cat's nine lives. We are crowded with cats right now. It is a tough time for us, but a great time for anyone who wants to give a cat a good home.

The Harrison County Humane Society will be glad to serve as a "matchmaker," working with people to help them select a compatible cat.

The Humane Society might, for example, recommend that a working couple choose a fully grown cat over a kitten, which demands more care and time at home.

Or if a person already has a dog, the society would look, if possible, for a cat who's already had contact with a canine in a previous home.

Prospective adopters also should keep in mind what it means to be a good cat owner.

While cats are basically independent, they do require regular feeding and attention to grooming and health care, including visits to the veterinarian regularly.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

One of the most common misconceptions of those who are born again into the family of God is that now they will no longer be tempted and that it is simply a straight shot to heaven.

However, this misconception is quickly destroyed usually within a few days or even hours of one's conversion.

Satan wastes little time in trying to undo the eternal good that was done at one's point of conversion. He waits, he watches, he knows our weaknesses, and at our weakest moment he pounces upon his victim with a bag full of temptations that are tailor-made for our own shortcomings.

Satan is described in the Old Testament (Job 2:2) as "going to and fro in the earth, and walking up and down in it." Peter reminds us, (1 Peter 5:8), "Be sober, be watchful: your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour."

Paul himself warns, (Ephesians 6:16), "Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one."

That same Paul who said that faith was the answer also told us the means to acquire faith. In this letter to the Christians in Rome he wrote, "faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." (Romans 10:17)

But perhaps as comforting as any other idea is that expressed by the Hebrew writer, in Hebrews 4:14-16. "Seeing then that we have a great high priest that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly before the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."

What a blessing it is to know that we have a God who knows first hand what it is like to be bombarded with temptations of every kind! He knows what it's like to be sick! He knows what it's like to be tired and weary! He knows what it's like to have Satan tempt us at our weakest moments.

Do you sometimes feel as though Satan is working overtime tempting you to sin? Do you feel like you are losing the battle? Here is a sure-fire remedy. First recognize the source of the problem. The problem is Satan.

Secondly, go to the one who has the answer. The answer is Jesus Christ. After all he is the one who is our merciful high priest is he not! And pray about it; admitting your weaknesses, your sins, and above all your need for his mercy and strength in combatting Satan.

Next go to His Word, the Bible. And find direction for your life. It will never steer you wrong! Make the Bible the blueprint for your life, because it is intended to be.

Finally, get back into fellowship with true Christians — not folks who simply dress up nice on Sunday, but those who live a Christ-like lifestyle every day of the week.

This is the only kind of fellowship that can give you the kind of encouragement that you need to overcome the wiles of Satan and make it to the Christian's promised land, Heaven!

May God bless you as you stand up, with God's help, and fight back at Satan.

Some call it by the French name "daube" or "boeuf a la mode" — others just call it "pot roast" — but whatever you choose to call it, this chuck or round roast, slowly simmered in a heavy pot such as the iron "Dutch oven," redolent with seasonings and laced with burgundy wine, is more of a gourmet dish than many a more elaborate concoction, and rightly so.

I like the first blade cut of the chuck best for this, as it seems to give extra flavor; cooked this way.

I am also one of those cooks who believe that you must have at least a few pieces of meat with the bone in when you make beef stew, for using only the boneless beef won't give you the richness which the marrow in the bone does.

And just about the best daube or pot roast cook I know is my long-time friend, Delores Bolden, who hails from the Coast and now calls New Orleans home — and I can never make mine quite as delicious as hers, even though through the years I've watched and watched and tasted and tasted as she cooked it. Here's DELORES' DAUBE

4 to 5 lbs. chuck roast
2 or 3 garlic cloves, silvered
4 Tbsp. olive oil
2 onions, chopped

Bay leaf
2 cups or more burgundy wine
Water as needed
Dashes of black pepper, cayenne to your taste
Salt, optional
Dashes of hot pepper sauce
Potatoes, carrots, optional
Make slits in the roast and poke in the garlic slivers. Barely cover the bottom of a Dutch or other heavy pot with oil and sear the roast on all sides, almost burning it over a high fire. That's part of the secret of the lush dark sauce or gravy.

Reduce the fire and add the onions, along with the other seasonings, watching that the meat doesn't stick to the bottom of the pot. Cut the flame down to just-simmering, pour about a cup of the wine over, and simmer for two hours or so, adding wine and water as needed. Serve with rice or noodles.

Often Delores adds carrots, whole medium onions and halved white potatoes about 45 minutes before the roast is done. The secret of this daube or pot roast as in many other Creole, Cajun, or Southern dishes of this sort, is as Delores told me many years ago, to "season high and keep the flame low."

Season tickets offered for three Bay Little Theatre summer hits

What happens when an Anglo-Saxon girl marries into an Italian household and gets an angel for a mother-in-law? Will Sweet Apple, Ohio ever be the same after Conrad Birdie arrives? What have love and sex got to do with the IRS?

Learn the answers to these questions during the 37th season of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Mary Carter, well-known among regular theatre-goers for her gift of comedic direction, returns to her directorial duties with the hilarious two act comedy, "Never Get Smart With An Angel."

Currently in rehearsal, "Never Get Smart With An Angel" will premiere on June 16 with additional performances on June 17 and 18.

Carter's past hits include "The Odd Couple," "Everybody Loves Opal," and "The Curious Savage."

The Little Theatre's traditional summer presentation takes us back to the days of Ed Sullivan, when rock and roll was king, with the rousing 50's style musical, "Bye Bye Birdie."

Tuneful hits such as Put On

A Happy Face, Kids, and A Lot of Livin' To Dying out as "Bye Bye Birdie" unfolds under the direction of Dan Griffon.

Griffon, who directed "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," is best remembered for his starring role as Teyve in "Fiddler On The Roof."

Tryouts for the summer musical will be announced in June, with show dates set for early August.

Theatre-goers who have cursed the IRS will howl at the comic antics of a pair of Manhattan gents who are trying to hoodwink Uncle Sam, in the three act comedy "Love, Sex and the IRS," which will round out the Theatre season.

The comedy, set for early fall, will be directed by Sherry Schwabacher, whose previous successes include "Barefoot in the Park" and "Forty Carats."

The Theatre is offering a season ticket for ten dollars, which will entitle the holder to all three productions. Season ticket information may be obtained by calling Dorothy Marochino at 467-7227 or Peggy Dutton at 467-1860.

The last B-26 group to go overseas during World War II, the 397th soon became known as the "Bridge Busters" for combat missions which began on April 20, 1944.

At the peak of its combat history the 397th struck the enemy's communications during the Battle of the Bulge (Dec. 1944-Jan. 1945) and received a Distinguished Unit Citation for a mission on Dec. 23, 1944 when the group withstood heavy flak and fighter attack to sever a railway bridge at Eiler, Germany, a vital link in the enemy's supply line across the Moselle River.

This mission cost the group many planes and men.

Lost pet may be at Harrison Humane

The Harrison County Humane Society serves the cities of Gulfport, Long Beach, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and also Harrison County.

Stray pets are brought to them by the canine officers of these areas.

All strays are held five working days to give the owner of the pet enough time to reclaim them.

After the five days the pet may be put up for adoption. There is a reclaim fee of $10 plus boarding.

To avoid the heartache of losing a pet, keep her or him in your home, porch, leashed or fenced at all times, suggested Eileen Loper, society executive director.
